Personal Information

Age:	Height:	Weight:	Hair:
Eyes:	Birth	o Order:	Mone	y: $2000 in trade goods
General Appearance: A lean and athletic, early 20 something. An ugly scar on your abdomen is a reminder of how close you came to being killed by zombies awhile back.

Disposition: See pages 162-163 for a list to possible dispositions to choose from.

Environment: An Agricultural community in Eastern Iowa. Came to this area for college. Survivor Family Lore: Separated from family in the chaos. Doesn't know who's dead or alive. Likes to think those loved most are still alive but doesn't know.

Special Aptitude Bonuses: Quick Reflexes: +1 action per melee and +1 to dodge.

Outlook on Earth's Future: Idealistic Hero. "We hold the fate of humanity in our hands, and we must triumph," is your motto and nothing will change your mind. An eternal optimist, losing is not an option in your eyes and the human race will not only triumph and rebuild, but someday, maybe you'll even have baseball games again someday!

Notes

Medium Protective Sports Gear: This category consists of wearing normal hockey, American football, lacrosse, and cricket batsman gear, as well as catcher's gear in baseball. A.R.: 12, S.D.C.: 80. (-5% to Physical skills due to weight/ bulk.) Before the Wave, baseball was my calling. I'm great at it. I dominated the pee-wee leagues, little leagues and on through high school, where my team won the championship two years in a row. I made the home run that won the game the second year. Scouts and recruiters were meeting me and everything. If it hadn't been for the Wave, I'd have probably been signed professionally by now. Not only and I a good hitter, but I'm fast... like really fast. I held the record for stealing the most bases in high school. That's how I got nicknamed "The Lead Off". Hey, it aint bragging when its true.

I was lucky when the Wave started, I went out of town to visit a friend. My friend wasn't so lucky. They got sick and eventually died, becoming the first zombie I saw. I fled from the room and then the clinic as the chaos started. I was on my own and nearly killed by a pack of zombies a month or so later, but was rescued by a scavenging party from Arbor. I'm one of the Arborists now.

Relationship to specific teammates / survivors in the "Arbor Community"
"Deputy"	Occupation:	Survivor	Thoughts: I owe the Deputy my life after saving me from a handful of	zombies a few w	/eeks ago. l'i	m sure I'd have been a goner otherwise.
Dana	Occupation:	Survivor	Thoughts: I also owe our resident paramedic my life.
I was bleeding ba	adly and would've	likely bled c	out otherwise. I'll take an ugly scar over dying any day.
Elliott	Occupation:	Survivor	Thoughts: I don't owe you my life, I am grateful for that concoction of	of yours… I felt N	O PAIN (nor	my legs) while healing from that near death experience.

Special Equipment

 Championship Bat
 Description:
 A bat that's been lovingly fitted with a custom grip

 Notes:
 This is the bat I used to hit the home run that won the high school championship back home.

 The whole town talked about that game, right up to the Wave. Its not just sentimental to me, it's a good sturdy bat that should see through the whole apocalypse. Note: Takes 48 damage before breaking.

Two-way handheld radio Description: black, handheld radio with added headset kit Abilities: Has 22 selectable standard channels, plus 28 extra channels for extra privacy with 36 miles of range in open areas. It has 285 privacy codes that gives you up to 6270 channel options to help block other conversations. Offers waterproof protection against light rain and splashing.

Nylon CordDescription:100ft of rugged white nylon ropeAbilities:Heavy duty, all purpose, white nylon rope with a tension strength of 600 lbs.Has come in surprisingly useful several times during scouting and scavenging trips.
