

Minister Moses Magnum

Alignment: Principled Occupation: Baptist Church Minister P.C.C.: Ghost Hunter

You are Moses Magnum, the youngest of three brothers in a lower class, but very spiritual family from St. Louis, Missouri. As a Southern Baptist minister himself, you've always looked up to your father and planned to follow in his footsteps. While your family was poor financially, everyone firmly held the belief that "we are a family that's rich in the heart, where it counts most." Your family was iconic in both your church and the badly downtrodden part of town it was located. Everyone looked up to your father (and family) for support and guidance in their hard knock lives. You kept your promise over the years, growing up in god's enlightenment, dedicating yourself to the bible and easily excelled at all of your schooling requirements to become a minister in record timing.

No doubt as a sign from god, you began to manifest your abilities as a Ghost Hunter during your first year of college. In your eyes these were gifts granted by god to give you yet another avenue to serve his will. With conviction and pride, you dedicated yourself to using your god given talents and have combated the supernatural (another word for "Hell Spawned" in your opinion.) on the lord's behalf many times.

Your travels as both a Ghost Hunter and a minister have taken you far and wide. Over the years you've been blessed with a beautiful wife, a healthy and strong family, and a permanent place as the minister of the "Ashburn Baptist Church" located in downtown Seattle. Like your childhood church, the church is in the worst part of town and you've strived to become a pillar of strength the community can rely on, just like your father. Seattle has also proven to be a hell mouth where demons of all kinds keep spawning from more than anywhere else you've ever been. It's as if god had called you to this place to smite the wicked and plunge them back into the fiery pits from whence they came... and you've done so frequently, and mercilessly.

Being a hunter and minister for nearly fifteen years now you still feel humbled and blessed to be able to serve the lord and hope to continue for many years to come. Being a part of the Lazlo Society has become a large part of your life since moving to Seattle and recently granted you an unexpected surprise. A new member by the name of Roxy Rowe has joined the society as a budding Ghost Hunter. You've known Roxy since she was a child (now 19); her family has been in regular attendance at your church since you've arrived. You've taken it upon yourself to train her in the ways of the Ghost Hunter. Her parent's believe she comes to the church for advanced bible studies with you, but in reality the church has also become your training area with Roxy.

Your paranormal investigation and hunting methods are just as spiritual as your ministry. You love to recite a quote from the bible as you fire your shotgun or slash your Devil Sword through the supernatural. You begin and end all your investigations/hunts with prayer and include everyone in the investigation. The lives of your comrades are precious to you, and as you've done all your life for god and humanity, you would sacrifice your life without question if it meant saving them all, or even one of them. Your one wish is that when you meet the lord above, with tears in his eyes he'll say "Well done Moses, well done." But until then, the lord has a glorious job for you to perform, and you have no intention of letting him down.
