

Brain Fog (New Physical ability)

Range: Others by touch or line of sight 10 feet (3 m) +1 foot (0.3 m) per level of the experience.

Duration: 1D6 minutes, +1 minute per level of experience.

I.S.P.: 6.

Saving Throw: Standard.

The psychic is able to scramble a person's memory in regard to recalling information, details, numbers, times, dates, names, and the performance of skills. There is a 50% chance the victim cannot remember a specific skill or a specific bit of information (name, date, time, code number, coordinates, address, location/direction, instructions, and similar).

Even when a skill is remembered, it is performed with a -20% penalty and takes twice as long. Additionally, the victim has considerable difficulty remembering and following directions and finding his way to any location, even familiar ones; 50% chance of going the wrong way/opposite direction literally at every turn. 50% chance of transposing and forgetting numbers.

Spell Caster Note: When Brain Fog is used on a spell caster or creature of magic, there is a 50% chance the mage cannot remember a specific spell!

All memory loss is temporary. When the duration ends, memory is restored to normal.

© copyright Palladium Books, Inc. Written by Kevin Siembieda